don't be embarrassed by the sight of my scars you see they wash off in the shower just let me know how much you want it my son and i can save you from the torment to come

D/A# D/A D7sus4/G
but it's important to remember to imagine

Dsus4/F D/A#
that your chromosomes are consciously in

D/A D7/G
charge of you - and they don't give a

D/A# D/A
fuck about the plans you made

D7sus4/G Dsus4/F
while daydreaming in second grade D/A# D/A
they've put you on the stage and now

D7/G Bm7/G
they won't allow you—they won't allow you down A#7M9/E D7/F

they won't allow you—they won't allow you down
D7/G Bm7/G

they won't allow you—they won't allow you
A#7M F6

Down—They won't allow you down

[D/A# D/A D] x3

you can't get over being cryptic my son and i can't work without specifics on this one flames of history or ice cream and infamy just give me something to go down in—or on

it's important to remember to imagine that your mother is at home and waiting up for you when this is over how will you explain the size and color of the stain you made while managing to not look proud she won't allow you—she won't allow you down...

[D/A# D/A D] x3

it's important to remember to imagine that your lover is asleep and half on top of you under the covers now you take a respite from the building of your pedestal and put me up to test it out you won't allow me—you won't allow me down...

D/A# D/A D D/A# D/A stare your money in the face D7M/C D/A# D/A D
this whole world is wasting

D/A# D/A
for you, my
